so what now?

if the day is constantly open

are we leaving time for unexpected encounters?

is it how we focus our technique?

what happens there?

empty

full